

Further Professional Development Opportunities & Resources:

1. American Hypnosis Association offers a short, introductory course to hypnosis with transgender clients, taught by a transgender hypnotist Melissa Gilleece. It adheres to the HMI approach to hypnosis (in theory and practice), and advocates visualization as a primary technique, but also presents some good background information and perspective from a transgendered person and an experienced professional. 2. Gender Odyssey is an annual conference that takes place in Los Angeles, CA. There are general audience, GO Family, and GO Professional tracks that offer a tremendous education, orientation, and immersion in transgender issues, perspectives, and community. It is well-worth attending, particularly the GO Professional track, which offers a variety of medical, psychological, and therapeutic perspectives. (<http://www.genderodyssey.org/>)
3. World Professional Association for Transgender Health (www.wpath.org) offers an annual symposium, as well as several helpful resources on their webpage such as Standards of Care for transgender health and a variety of policy position papers
